At the request of Jamie Walter of Proven Thoroughbreds, a review of radiographs submitted to the repository was undertaken on 30/1/17.

Radiographic Examination

The standard set of 36 radiographs was examined in the repository on line.

LH fetlock; a medial sesamoid basal fragment, a large non- articular avulsion fragment from plantar P1 and a small axial base healed tear on the lateral sesamoid; medium risk. These are non surgical lesions.

Both hocks showed small OCD changes on the distal lateral ridge which are unlikely to require surgical intervention.

Mild modelling on both knees radial carpal bones are low risk with time and mild modelling on the tip of the pedal bone is low risk with good foot care.

In my opinion, at this time, the radiographs of this horse are within acceptable levels of risk for purchase as a racehorse.

The colt is suitable for public syndication and mortality insurance.
